HUNTING CHEAPER MARKETS

Bellows Manhole Covers and Meter Boxes Can Be Bought at Lower Price Near Tulsa

Dull business was the password at the meeting of the mayor and board of commissioners yesterday morning, while the city officials manifesting anxiety over the outcome of the $2 million additional tax levy election.

Paul Latta, residing in the residential district of West First and Resseale, reported to special delivery service for calling attention of the commissioners to existing unhealthy conditions which he claims are prevailing in the neighborhood.

Acting as spokesman for the vicinity, Latta, in addressing the commission stated that while property values over the remainder of the city were being housed by leaps and bounds those of his neighborhood remained the same and in fact are of little marketable desirability because of failure to improve by the city. The complainant cited the next street, 11th Street, for failing and other public improvements which have long been neglected for the neighborhood.

The complainant was received and filed for investigation by the commission.

Complaint of Joe Gentry on behalf of the Dallas Foundry company was received by the commission.

Gentry stated that judgment against the city had been allowed by the court for failure to pay him interest due on the Dallas foundry, which have disappeared since being in the opinion of Gentry. The commission decided to dismiss Gentry's claim.

Commissioner Curran stated that the manhole covers and rings which have heretofore been purchased from various foundry concerns can be obtained from a small factory at Sand Springs for $12.50 each whereas at the city has been paying $15.50. The meter boxes, heretofore purchased from the Dallas foundry, can be constructed by the city at a big saving, according to Curran.

H. C. Stueve, representing a local electrical concern, appeared before the commission and asked that his firm be allowed to deviate slightly from the electrical wiring code for the purpose of co-operating with a local business concern that is overhauling its wiring system. Stueve proposes to do the work a little at a time so as not to inconvenience the business house in question. The opinion of the commissioners was that the wiring should be made modern at once and that no discrimination should be made among the electrical or business houses.

ALBERT MITCHELL TAKES FLING AT AUTO BUSINESS

Lured from the profession which he has followed for a score of years by the dream of riches to be made in the automobile world, Albert Mitchell, commercial artist and World cartoonist, has announced his departure from Tulsa on Saturday late this week. He has secured the agency for Fomoco Club territory for the popular makes of automobiles.

During his stay in Tulsa, Mr. Mitchell has been connected at various times with the art department of the American Engraving company and the engineering department of the Coeden company, in addition to his work as World cartoonist. His cartoon work was a feature of the recent successful campaign for the $5,000,000 Spanish water bonds.

Alleged Auto Thieves Dismissed. Walter Peacock and R. A. McLaughlin, charged jointly with J. E. Winter with the theft of an automobile from P. H. Gallagher on July 23, were both dismissed at their preliminary hearing before Judge J. H. Gray Tuesday afternoon. Winter waived preliminary trial and was bound over to the district court under $2,000 bond.

Police Get Big Whisky Loot When Automobile Wrecks

Night cases of whisky was the loot captured by the police when they answered a phone call telling them of a still operating on North Main street road about three miles north of the city at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Officers E. H. Good and Wade Fair, in the police patrol, drove up on the two men who had an Oldsmobile touring car which they had driven into the weeds at the side of the road. At their approach one of the men jumped into the brush pursued by Good, while Fair covered the other one with his revolver. Only one of them, R. C. Evans, was captured, although Good fired two shots at the other man.

There are seven men with seven guns in those weeds and if you

Deputy Sheriffs Search County for Trace of Gang of Men Who Beat Man to Death.

Funeral arrangements for John P. Lynn of Mounds, who was beaten to death with fence rails by four men near Hickory early Sunday morning, have not yet been made pending the arrival of a brother of Lynn from California. Lynn recently returned from France, where he served with the A. E. F. several months.

Sheriff James Woolsey had found no trace of the murderers Tuesday, although he had his men at work all over the county trying to locate their trail after they abandoned the body at the roadside near Hickory. Lynn, who was a tire fitter for the Wilson Oil company, came to Tulsa Saturday morning to have his pay check cashed and had about $150 in his possession when he met the men who murdered him. They drove him out toward Dawson, striking him in the head with a revolver when he resisted their attempts to take his money from him, later killing him outright by smashing him to pulp with a rail from a fence. The car in which they drove to the place of the murder was a newly painted Hudson super six, stolen from Bay

SMALL SCHOOLS FOR GIRLS ARE BETTER

CRESCENT COLLEGE, an accredited JUNIOR COLLEGE for girls, Eureka Springs, Ark., has compiled a statistical list showing that 80 per cent of the men and women called eminent received their principal college training in small schools.

CRESCENT limits enrollment to 50 boarding students to provide intimate contact with master minds and individual attentions to each girl. This feature with the carefully selected student body and the modern methods employed have attracted girls from 25 different states. Emphasis is placed on hygiene, out-of-doors recreation, child welfare and other advanced subjects which prepare the girls for the supreme career together.

The location in the heart of the Ozarks, famous for healthfulness, has doubtless contributed to making this small school a national name. For catalogue, view book and further particulars, address:

Prices Will be Readjusted

And no doubt the purchasing power of a dollar will be doubled. Deposit $10.00 a month for 120 months and receive in cash $2,000. This $2,000 will buy as much as $4,000 will today.

You would make 100% on your money if you put it away without interest and did not touch it till prices reach their former level, but we will pay you 9 1/4% interest compounded semi-annually on the above plan returning you a profit in interest of $800. Larger amounts earn in the same proportion.

All accounts are non-taxable.
